McGILL WINTER CARNIVAL TICKETS ON SALE TODAY MODEL PARLIAMENT TO BE HELD TONITE IN BALLROOM

C.C.F. Will Form the Government Party

Liberals to Be Official Opposition

Official Texts

The third session of the Model Parliament will open tonight in the Union Ballroom with all parties participating. The C.C.F. party will form the government and the Liberal Party the official opposition. The bill presented by the government provides for the nationalization of life insurance companies, and would result in the control of the powers of investment now enjoyed by these companies.

Steering Committee Statement

The Steering Committee of the Model Parliament has decided to invite individual McGill students to form a L.P.P. Second Opposition for the session of Feb. 9. This action was made public in a special release to the Daily yesterday, and is motivated by a desire to present a complete representation of all parties.

Both the Liberal and Progressive Conservative Parties have submitted amendments which, in the case of the former, would delete most of the Government Bill except for the clause "Establish a crown company to provide adequate life insurance for low income groups," and substituting clauses providing more reasonable medical examinations, limiting the amount of life insurance held by an individual, and prohibiting the sale of life insurance to persons over 60.

The Progressive Conservative amendment would delete the entire Government Bill and substitute one stating that since the question of life insurance is inseparable from an over-all security scheme, the following benefits should be made available to all Canadians; adequate medical and hospital care, extended unemployment insurance benefits, retirement pensions at 65, and accident, sickness and disability benefits.

The speaker of the House will be Prof. J. W. Mallory of the political science department. Prof. Mallory has served in the same capacity at other Model Parliaments.

Debating Society Sponsors

The Parliament is sponsored by the McGill Debating Society, and it is believed that some of the members who were so successful in their recent trip to England will be present at the session.

The following is the composition of the C.C.F. Cabinet. The government ministers are:

Prime Minister, John Wolfe; Minister of External Affairs and Deputy P.M., Peter Scott; Minister of Economic Planning, George Ashcroft; Minister of Labor, Bill Hardesty; Minister of Finance, Nat. Wolfe; Minister of Justice, Peter Sinclair; Minister of Defence, Bill Deacon; Minister of Agriculture, Morris Segall; Minister of Mines and Resources, Alex Gladstone; Minister of Transport, Bob Tate; Minister of State, Earl Krug; Postmaster General, Jane Wilson; Minister of Veterans' Affairs, Harold Hoffman; Minister of Trade and Commerce, Bill Waldman; Minister of Health and Social Welfare, Faye Rodriguez; Minister for Housing, John Oliver; Minister of Information, Stan Grossman; Minister of Fisheries, Nancy Weaver; Minister of National Revenue, Pat Harris; Minister of Dominion-Provincial Relations, Miss Harris; Minister of Reconstruction, Don Patterson; Minister of Immigration, Bill Mannie.

The procedure will be such that the Government will present its bill, after which the opposition and the ministers will give their arguments.

The following are the official texts of the Steering Committee's release to the Daily and the bill and amendments to be presented at tonight's Model Parliament.

STEERING COMMITTEE RELEASE

The Steering Committee of the Model Parliament on which are represented all the political clubs on the campus has decided to invite individual McGill students to form a Labor-Progressive Opposition for the session of February 9th. This action is being undertaken without prejudice to the case involving the suspension of the L.P.P. Club on the campus and is motivated by the desire to facilitate a full and completely representative debate at the Model Parliament.

John A. Oliver, Chairman, Steering Committee

M. J. Wolfe, CCF Club Representative

W. D. Thomas, Liberal Club Representative

Zbigniew Brzezinski, Progressive Conservative Representative

THE GOVERNMENT BILL:

WHEREAS the privately owned life insurance companies control a disproportionate amount of the national wealth, and

WHEREAS these companies must, of necessity, maintain an investment policy designed for private gain rather than public advantage, and

WHEREAS life insurance rates are unreasonably high, and

WHEREAS the policies issued do not provide satisfactory protection for the policyholders;

this house enact legislation to:

(1) Socialize the life insurance function of all federally chartered life insurance companies.

(2) Establish a crown operated company to provide adequate life insurance at low rates.

(3) Guarantee life insurance policies existing at the time of socialization.

(4) Abide by the decision of the Exchequer Court regarding compensation of the shareholders.

(5) Aid in the establishment of provincially owned and co-operative companies which will provide general insurance.

P.C. AMENDMENT:

Delete everything after the first "Whereas," to be replaced by:

Whereas the well-being of Canada depends on the health and fitness of its citizens, and

Whereas the full benefits of a social security scheme are only obtainable in an atmosphere of full and equal co-operation of all the parties concerned, not fettered by Socialistic controls, and

Whereas the question of life insurance is inseparable from an over-all social security scheme.

Therefore be it resolved that this House enact legislation to:

1. Make available to every Canadian the following benefits: health insurance — to include adequate medical and hospital care; extended unemployment insurance benefits — to include payment for time lost due to accidents or sickness; retirement pensions at 65 without a means test; accident, sickness and disability benefits.

2. Enact legislation with permissive power to the provinces to adopt this plan on a compulsory and contributory basis, which will be established in collaboration with and administered by the provinces;

3. Place Family Allowances on a uniform basis per child regardless of the number of children in the family.

THE LIBERAL AMENDMENT:

Delete whereas No. 1, 2, and 4. Include: Whereas life insurance rates are unreasonably high "for low income groups" — therefore delete No. 1, 3, 4, 5.

Admit No. 2 — i.e. to establish a crown company to provide adequate life insurance at low rates. And add:

Shown above are BRIAN MacDONALD and ANN EGAN, two newcomers to this year's edition of the Red and White Revue. Brian and Ann are dancing in the chorus line along with doing a solo spot in the "Heavenly Audition" scene. This scene depicts a rehearsal of a ballet scene and a very novel effect has been achieved by the use of a bare stage with no back-drop.

Choral Society Has Very Busy Schedule

The Choral Society has a busy schedule planned for the next week or two. Among the coming Choral events, the following are drawn to the special attention of the members.

1. The first informal party for this term is being held tonight in Divinity Hall, right after the regular practice.

2. The election of officers to the new executive is to take place today. Members are asked to come as early as possible.

3. The Choral Society will sing at the Winter Carnival on Friday, Feb. 18. Parts of the "Nutcracker Suite" will be presented as well as some appropriate "winterish" selections. All chorists who sang at Christmas are invited to come to the next two practices (today and next Wednesday) to prepare for the Carnival, whether or not they are members of the society this term.

4. Preparations for the society's next concert "SPRINGSONG" to be held on March 18, are going ahead steadily. According to the grapevine "SPRINGSONG" promises to surpass the standard set at the Christmas concert.

Rev. Carter to Speak At Newman Meeting

Monday evening the regular weekly lectures in Theology continued at Newman House under the leadership of Rev. Father Emmett Carter, club chaplain.

This was the third in a series and dealt with the Nature of God and that of man. Comparing God to man the lecturer stated: "God has a plenitude of being, that is He possesses everything within Himself, therefore His happiness consists in Himself whereas man is not self-sufficient and hence for perfect happiness requires both the knowledge and the love of God."

Next week Father Carter will continue with a discussion of "The Loss of Supernatural Life and Its Restoration."

These lectures are held every Monday at Newman House at 8 p.m. The public is invited.

Red & White Revue Given Show in Moyse Hall Tonite

Tonight marks the twenty-third opening night of the traditional Red and White Revue. This show, which has been doing its best for years to give the students of old McGill something to smile about, comes up with what is believed to be a better edition than ever before. After nearly four months of concerted effort on the part of nearly one hundred and fifty students, Producer Fred Barnes has put the finishing touches to a show which has left him little time for sleep in the past few weeks.

The performers include Veterans Don Wolvin, Ian Fraser, Judy Greene, Gerry McKinnon, Len Ashely, Len Harbour, Marion Mantell, interspersed with such new comers as Sally Ames and Nan Bishrope, Jackie Westgarth, Andy Lesage, Bill Whiteacre, Bill Nichols, Ozzie Gelfand, Lang Desjardins and others.

Stanley Mann, veteran of previous Revues and various other campus shows, including the Radio Workshop, the Players Club, and Arena Wing Theatre productions, has been Script Coordinator. Not only doing some of the writing himself, Stan worked the remainder into shape so that he has molded a story setting for the rest of the show which turns this year's Revue into a musical comedy rather than a musical revue of disjointed skills and musical numbers.

Along with Mr. Mann's script, Stan Martin, the Musical Director, has worked with Moura Wedderpoon and Roy Wolvin, all remembered from past years, and produced some ten musical numbers which are extremely good. Mr. Martin's "Is It Any Wonder," performed by Marion Mantell and Roy Wolvin's "The First Love Song" by Jackie Westgarth and "Caughnawaga Too" by Don Wolvin, are some of the top numbers of the show.

Three Movies Seen By Dawson Pre-Meds

The last meeting of the Dawson Pre-Med Society was held on Monday night. The main item on the agenda was the showing of three movies. The subjects presented were: "Revival After Death," "The Embryology of a Chick" and "The Use Of Penicillin in Medicine."

The first movie dealt with the experiment of theoretically killing dogs and then reviving them after a period of as much as fifteen minutes. In the second show the development of a chicken was traced from the egg through the different stages of its embryology to its development to the adult stage.

Speeded-up photographs showed the stages very clearly. In the last movie, the uses of penicillin were shown in the various fields of medicine. This included combat of disease, treatment of fractures by prevention of infection, and its use in various surgical operations, during which session half of the audience left the hall.

It was impressed on the visitors that Western had not asked the government to do everything for it but has itself made strenuous efforts to meet financial demands.

For example, the building fund campaign has almost achieved its objective of $2,500,000 without government aid. This campaign has already made it possible to build additions to the Science building, enlarge the Collip laboratory, and undertake a large portion of the cost of Thames Hall.

Most Canadian universities are provincially or institutionally controlled. Only McGill, Queens and Western could be described as large "private universities" among the approximately 22 universities and colleges of the Dominion," Dr. Hall said.

Figures were shown pointing out that the university's position is worse in relation to provincial grants than it was in 1925. Grant at that time was $300,000. Enrollment then was 600 students, and expenses were lower.

Although the grant since then has been increased only $50,000,

U.B.C. Plans Open House For March 5

Vancouver—(CUP)—The University of British Columbia has completed plans for the largest Open House Day in the history of the institution.

Saturday, March 5, following a week of special events open to the public the University will swing wide its doors to the citizens of British Columbia.

It will entail the organization of over 600 student guides, the assembly of hundreds of displays, the arrangement of research projects, scale models of industrial processes and collections of rare museum pieces and books.

$8,000,000 worth of buildings and equipment will be on display for visitors from all parts of British Columbia as well as the Vancouver area. In such an extensive display of scientific and art material it is difficult to select any one item of particular interest. The newly constructed Physics building will be a scientific bazaar of strange experiments and demonstrations. Laboratory magic will be performed with liquid air, X-rays, sound waves, mine detectors, Geiger counters, and radio-active isotopes.

In the Library displays of ancient coins, rare books, and many other objects of historical and artistic interest will be assembled, and in the lower floor of the new Library wing visitors may examine, for the first time, one of the finest collections of Northwest Indian artifacts in existence, part of the Anthropological Museum that will be officially opened on the morning of March 5.

Structured throughout the campus. A large nursery with trained nurses in attendance will care for all children, with toys and play equipment abundance to keep the little ones happy while the parents visit the displays.

From his letters and sketches accumulated while in the German Straf Lager (punishment camp) he published a book, when back in Palestine after the war. On his release from imprisonment he was received at Buckingham Palace by the King and Queen of England. On his return to Israel he again took up farming for a short period of time, before being called upon by Prime Minister Ben-Gurion to embark on a speaking tour of America for the United Israel Appeal.

Students are asked to be on time for the beginning of the address by Mr. Hachoen today at Hillel House.

After the war he studied agriculture in California, and then returned to Palestine to take up farming in that country.

When the Second World War broke out he again entered the British Army, at the request of the Hagana, where he assumed the rank of captain, in command of the Jewish port operating company of the Royal Engineers. After two years of action, he was captured by the Germans and held prisoner for several years.

New Tickets Policy Effective For Approaching Festival

Deep River Boys to Harmonize For Carnival Queens' Preview

The five contestants for the position of carnival queen will be present in the McGill Union at one o'clock today, when the "Deep River Boys" will sing for the benefit of the Y.W.C.A. drive. Much mention already has been made of these five candidates, Cynthia Powell, Beryl Dickens-Dash, Gay Elington, Pegie McNaughton, and Marcia Forde. However, many students have not yet had the opportunity to see and meet these girls.

It is important that any student casting a ballot for carnival queen should first see all five co-ed's so that he will know for whom he is voting. This way the voter will be sure of his choice and not make a decision influenced by others.

Also, on Friday, February 14th, the queen contestants are going out to Dawson where they will make another public appearance. That afternoon from 12 to 2, they will sell Winter Carnival tickets to Dawson students. This is the only day that tickets will be sold at Dawson. The girls will be set off in prominence at the ticket booths so that students can observe them in an informal atmosphere, and thus designate their choice.

Students both at McGill and Dawson will go to the polls on Valentine's Day, Monday, February 14th, when they will make their final choice and vote for their candidate as queen of the McGill Winter Carnival.

Discount Made At Forum Nite

Today tickets go on sale at the Gym for the McGill Winter Carnival. Tomorrow they will be selling at the various campus buildings and downtown. This leaves exactly one week in which students may buy tickets to the giant four-day winter holiday.

A new ticket policy is going into effect this year, different from last year's in that there will be no over-all blanket tickets sold. Tickets are selling separately for each event. This system as it has been worked out, is believed to be more suitable and economical in every respect.

TICKET POLICY

The ticket policy, although seemingly rather complicated at first sight, is worked out logically, and Jacques Tetreault, financial chairman of the Carnival has set down the whys and wherefores in point order, so that they may be more easily understood by all concerned:

(1) Tickets are selling on the campus starting Thursday, at the following places: Union, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m.; Engineering building, from 12 noon to 2 p.m.; Arts Building, from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. This is exclusive of Forum tickets, which are being sold at the Gym and downtown only.

(2) ONLY Forum tickets are selling downtown at the following places: Lord's Sport Shop; Hyman's Cigar Store (St. James street); Joey Richman's Sport Shop; Jerry Synder's Sport Shop (Queen Mary road); and Morgan's Department store Sports shop.

Discount For Coupon

(3) ALL tickets to the Forum may be bought at a 25c discount if a student coupon is presented. However this applies ONLY if tickets are bought at the Gym. General admission tickets, however, are selling only on the night of the event, at the Forum, and the 25c discount applies if a student coupon is presented.

(4) Since all seats at the Forum are reserved, including the Circle, only 1,500 students are being admitted on general admission. Therefore students must get to the Forum early or buy reserved seats beforehand.

Mr. Tetreault went on to outline the prices that would be in effect for the events other than the Forum evening. "Carnival Night" on Mount Royal is absolutely free he said, with the exception of a small charge for sleigh rides. Athletics Night admission is $1 per person. Tickets for train fare to St. Sauveur are $1.75 return." Mr. Tetreault stressed that train tickets must be bought before Tuesday, Feb. 15, as arrangements for the "Ski Special" must be made with the C.N.R. on that day.

REDUCED FOOD PRICES

Special rates have also been arranged for McGill students at St. Sauveur," continued Mr. Tetreault. "The all-day charge on the rope tow is 75c and a 40% reduction has been obtained on the T-bar lift. Nymarks has also arranged to reduce food prices for us." The "Ski Special," leaving at 8.00 a.m. from C.N.R. central station will leave St. Sauveur at 4.30 p.m. and return to Montreal in plenty of time for carnivals to prepare for the evening at the Forum.

"The price for the ski jumping competition, beginning at 2.00 o'clock on Saturday is set at 50c per person," he continued. Mr. Tetreault stressed that no people would be admitted within the fence at the jump unless they had bought tickets.

Tickets for the last event of the Carnival, the Grand Carnival Ball, are priced at $1.50 per person and the executive has made it known that stags will be especially welcome and that they will be suitably taken care of by young ladies that are to be in attendance—unescorted.

Tickets are being sold at Dawson on one day only — Monday,

Hillelites Will Hear Israeli Speaker at 1

Today at 1 p.m. at Hillel House, Hillelites will have the opportunity to hear Mr. Simon Hachoen, soldier and agricultural expert, who has recently come to America from Israel to help raise funds for the United Israel Appeal.

Mr. Hachoen first came to Palestine at the age of seven and has lived there for forty-one years. As a youth of sixteen years of age he joined the Jewish battalion of the British Army in the First World War and he soon became known as the youngest sergeant of the British Army.

After the war he studied agriculture in California, and then returned to Palestine to take up farming in that country.

When the Second World War broke out he again entered the British Army, at the request of the Hagana, where he assumed the rank of captain, in command of the Jewish port operating company of the Royal Engineers. After two years of action, he was captured by the Germans and held prisoner for several years.

Student Vets Refused Basic Grant Increase

Toronto—(CUP)—There will definitely be no move by the Dominion government to increase the basic grants to student veterans at this session of parliament, Veterans' Affairs Minister Milton F. Gregg stated last week at a meeting of the University of Toronto Liberal Club.

The minister was answering a question asking him to enlarge upon the position he had taken on the floor of the House of Commons recently. He went on to explain why the government was taking this attitude.

Explains No Increase

The rehabilitation scheme, as originally conceived, had the task of getting approximately a million veterans back into civilian life, he went on. "We hoped to do this by 1950, and expected that it would cost a billion and a half dollars," the minister said. To date the program has run very well and it will probably cost as much as originally expected.

Of the million veterans about 58,000 have received university training, 100,000 have taken vocational training, 40,000 have taken land grants and the rest came back into civilian life under the re-establishment grant, the minister said. "It cost about $4,000 for each student veteran, $2,000 for each veteran who took a land grant, $1,000 for those who received vocational training and $500 for those who took the re-establishment credits," the minister explained. In view of these facts, Gregg said that he did not think "the Federal Government has the right to take any further steps that might create jealousy among veterans who didn't take the student grants and among the general public."

Students are asked to be on time for the beginning of the address by Mr. Hachoen today at Hillel House.

Campus Revue Opens To-night Red and White Revue Begins One Week Run

All Student Production Features Fine Settings,
Original Dances, Colourful Costumes,
Delightful Music and Laughter

Well, here we go again. Were we right in the same spot where we were last year... and just about at the same time. The anxieties are the same, the feelings in the tummies are no different, and the rumors are flying. If you have time to plough your way through Daily files of other years, you will see evidence that other students were in exactly the same boat. And we would bet strongly that next February will be little different.

The trials and tribulations of preparing the Red and White Revue are over and the worried producer has had time to sit back to watch the result of all the preparation being acted on the stage for him. As we said in the opening paragraph... here we are again. The work has been done and the time is up. The Red and White Revue, which has been gathering steam for four months, is opening to-night.

This year's Revue has many advantages over shows of other years. This is to be the fourth edition of the Revue since the activity was renewed in 1945. No longer are students in the dark as to what the campus wants in the way of entertainment. Production problems are much clearer now and so the producer knows what he is going to be up against. Add to all this the recent injection of youth into the student body. There is a growing satisfaction in the fact that young students have taken over.

It has been stated before that a Revue is a subtle combination of many elusive elements. The show reflects, in many ways, the Campus spirit which some would say is lacking here. There is no spirit lacking in this year's Revue. The music and dancing in this year's show are exceptionally fine. The script has been based on a format suggested and developed by Stanley Mann. The jokes are strictly 'campus' in flavor.

Stan Martin, the music director, finally has all of his score together. We say finally because, once, the overture and two full orchestrations went astray. No sooner had Mr. Martin redone the lost part of the score, then it went for an all night ride in a taxi. Both Martin and Fred Barnes were much relieved when the driver showed up the next day with their wandering musical score.

For years, those who have chosen to work in the Revue have faced the opening night jitter situation. This year is no different... from the producer, through the list to the last usher... they are

Enjoyable Concert

An enjoyable programme was given last Friday evening at the McGill Conservatorium by the pupils of Mrs. Edith Eager Ross, L.Mus.

A recital of this nature not only illustrates the abilities of the pupils who take part, but also the competence of the teacher. In this case, the overall musical style of the playing reflected most favourably on Mrs. Ross. The programme was well-balanced and played in good taste.

Naturally there were individual differences in the performances of the different students. However, these did not seriously affect the general high standard of playing exhibited Friday evening.

The best performance of the evening was given by Joan Howles, who did not merely adhere faithfully to her teacher's instructions, but also seemed to put a warmth of her own into the playing of J. B. McEwen's Sonatina in G, and also into Mozart's A major Concerto, which was rendered in true Mozartian style.

All wondering what it will come out like. And so you may well hear some character mumble, as he rushed by you in the halls, "Here we go again."

Robert Robinson, who was the first on the programme, had a little too much confidence in himself and it was not becoming. His display of arpeggios, etc., before beginning his concerto was certainly not in good musical taste.

The rest of the students gave creditable performances; the majority of them were good, all of them were above mediocre.

The guest artist was Helen Welles, who played the first movement of Bach's violin concerto in A Minor. Her playing was not always clear but this was probably caused by nervousness more than a lack of musical knowledge.

Mr. and Mrs. Romaine B. Ottefflage of Key West, Florida, arrived in Montreal this morning to attend the McGill Winter Carnival. The couple seem to be quite enthusiastic about the coming festivities, and are looking forward to seeing the Eskimos and their igloos which are rumored to dot our picturesque city.

Political Comment

As a McGill student, as a lover of freedom, and as a Roman Catholic, I deplore the false arrest, the sham trial and sinful condemnation of Cardinal Mindszenty.

This is the man who was arrested during the late war because he denounced from his pulpit the inhuman racial theories of Nazism, and indeed sheltered in his home those oppressed countrymen of his who did not belong to the "master race." Today he is branded "Fascist".

This is the man, renowned throughout the Catholic world for humble piety, whose people, un-

CO-OPERATIVE BOOKSTORE

Wesley Bryant's proposal to the S.E.C. that a co-operative book store be established at McGill was certainly long overdue. For many years there has been a need for some sort of action to help reduce the cost of books, which, at the present time, is a great drain on the average student's budget.

The time has long passed when most college students were financially well to do. Nowadays, a great portion of the student body must work in the summer, and some work at other times as well, in order to make ends meet. A reduction in the expenses would, therefore, be most welcome.

Mr. Bryant proposes a "co-operative" bookstore. With this we heartily agree. A McGill bookshop in any other form would, we feel, not be as advantageous. By "co-operative" we understand two conditions for the operation of the proposed bookshop. Firstly, it will be operated wholly by students i.e. there will be no concession given out. Secondly, that it will not be operated for profit.

The first condition is very important for there may be some people who think that the most efficient way to operate a bookshop would be to give the concession to some person or group of people who are experienced in this line. They would make profits, but these profits would be limited by the S.E.C. The argument, we believe, is highly illogical. For, if McGill students can put on such things as a Red and White Revue, a Winter Carnival, and indeed put out a daily newspaper, surely they are capable of running a Campus bookstore.

The second condition is that no profits are to be made. This is applicable even if no concession is given out. There might be a tendency for the bookstore to be run for profit and not for the economic advantage of those who buy books. It might be argued that the money thus received would benefit the students, anyway, since it would all go into the S.E.C. Treasury. Nevertheless, we feel that for the S.E.C. to make money in this fashion would be a form of indirect taxation and take advantage of those of us who have to buy more books than the others.

Although this situation would be better than the present one, it would, however, not be the best. What is needed is a bookshop that will sell books without making a profit, that is, the price of the books should be equal to the cost, plus the expenses involved.

Certain details will have to be worked out, such as the method for determining the price etc. but these are minor technical difficulties which can be ironed out later. What is needed is action, particularly on the part of the S.E.C. This essential matter has been delayed long enough. It is to be hoped that action will now, at last, be taken.

Letters to the Editor

Editor in Chief,
McGill Daily,
Montreal.

Dear Sir, — The musically-minded students of McGill have tolerated for too considerable a period of time the rather trite "musical" reviews of Mr. J. Kohos, McGill students must respect the fact that Mr. Kohos is devoting a lot of time to music, but this should not give him the right to be as over-critical as he has been. Does not Mr. Kohos realize that a critique involves showing the good as well as bad points of a musical event. A review, in order to be satisfactory, does not necessarily have to have slanderous cynicism in it, but Mr. Kohos seems to enjoy demonstrating his cynical talents.

In a recent review, although admitting that Mr. Rubinstein played with more musicianship than virtuosity the editor HAD to remind the reader that in the past Mr. Rubinstein has been guilty of over-virtuosity. We do not need to be reminded of past Rubinstein performances. Mr. Isaac Stern is a violinist boasting of a fine reputation. How can one judge from one performance whether or not he is "losing his artistry before his prime."

It is well known that Montreal does not boast of the finest orchestra in the world; we no longer need to be reminded of this fact. Let us hear this orchestra judged on a relative basis. Mr. Kohos stated that Enesco could not "put life into the dead Concerts Symphoniques players." Let us assure him that they are merely dormant.

We would, however, like to see new life injected into the McGill Daily Music Staff by having others than those who are not listed in the McGill Student Directory write our Music reviews for us, the students,

FLAPPER FOLLIES, one of the high-spots in the chorus line's capers this year. This is the 20's episode reached after a number of other "period" dances which trace the evolution of man from pre-historic times to the present day.

Sportively Speaking

by Barbara Watson

Spinning it . . .
This week we get underway with news from the icy ways . . . and the skating rink comes to the fore. Flashing blades can be seen out there as the chorus line goes into action while they prepare for the Winter Carnival next week . . . the Lemmon sisters will be coming up from Philadelphia, and they will be one of the big features of McGill's gala Carnival . . . they will be skating at the Forum on Friday as part of the McGill Varsity senior puck tilt.

Speaking of hockey, we hear tell that the girls in the Cosmo Club outplayed the Ruggers team at the beginning of the week . . . they won the game 4-3 . . . A hockey team that is playing for the Red and White has been set up by the girls, and they played Macdonald last week-end. Their sporting country cousins won out, 1-0. This Thursday they leave for Toronto where they will be playing on Friday afternoon. Bunny Macdonald, Dot Gilbert, Shirley Matheson, Sheila McQuitty, will be on the train going up for the big contest. Rumor has it that these keen types have been going out to practice at 7.30 in the morning.

Schussing it . . .
The ski team for the Carnival week-end has been named . . . and skiing for the Red and White will be many of the schussers that have been appearing in Monday's headlines for the past few weeks. Flashing down the trail and through the slalom poles will be Rosie Schultz, Jo Hewson, Cynthia

Powell, and Ann Bushnell. They will be skiing against St. Lawrence, Middlebury, and Toronto . . . This will be Ann's first for the McGill team. Rosie and Jo are both second year students and need no introductions . . . Cynthia, the gal who is running for Carnival queen, is a fourth year student.

Swimming it . . .
The Billy Dempsey Trophy will be vied for at the end of the month, when the duet team, Carolyn Box and Barbara Watson, will be swimming . . . after having started to swim together for the intercollegiate meet last December . . . the Swimming Club may also be in the meet taking place in the middle of the month, during the Carnival week-end . . . they also have big plans underway to produce a watershow in March.

Vote . . . Vote . . .
The nominations are now open for the MWSAA elections and voting will take place on March 9th for next year's president. The girl must be in third year, so that she will be in fourth year when she is in office. She has to sign the nomination herself along with twenty-five people and it is then to be handed in to the RVC switchboard. They must then present a platform. Let's get these slips started around . . . don't wait for someone else to do it.
Last shot . . . the beginners' tournament in the fencing club is still on this week during the regular sessions.

Senior Puck Squad Tramples All-stars In Exhibition Game

Paced by Rocky Robillard with a three goal performance, Dave Campbell's Senior Redmen routed the Lachute Legion All-Stars by the score of 10-4 before a capacity crowd at the Lachute Arena.

In the exhibition tilt sponsored by the Lachute Branch of the Canadian Legion to raise money for the Legion Building Fund, the Campbell crew came from behind a 2-1 deficit in the initial stanza, to trounce the All-Star aggregate composed of players from the Quebec-Ontario League, 10-4.

ALL STARS OPEN SCORING
Gaston Page opened the scoring for the All-Stars early in the first period, on a pass from J. Meillette. A minute later, Rocky Robillard with the aid of Gosselin Gene, and Reggie Sinclair, sallied in on goal-er Martin in the Legion cage, to knot the count.

Three-quarters through the first stanza, Page countered his second goal for the All-Stars on a pass from Meillette, to put the Lachute crew ahead 2-1 at the end of the initial frame.

In the middle canto, McGill ceased to take the game as a joke, and after 2 minutes of play, Reggie Sinclair netted the twine for the Redmen on a pass from Gene Robillard, to tie the game up once more.

REDMEN CHARGE AHEAD
Five minutes later, Phil Henry put the Redmen ahead 3-2 on a pass from Gosselin, and from that point on, the Redmen never relinquished their lead. At the 17 minute mark, Gosselin put the disc behind goaler Martin of the Legionnaires with a beautiful drive to the lower right-hand corner of the net, on a pass from Ross Parsons.

With only one minute remaining in the stanza, Big Doug Heron finally scored after failing on successive attempts, to put the Redmen ahead 5-2.

The third frame was not 2 minutes old, when Reg Sinclair knotted his second goal of the evening on passes from both Robillards, to put McGill ahead 6-2. A minute later, this same line came back, to score the Redmen's seventh goal, with Rocky Robillard connecting.

Gaston Meillette returned for the All-Stars, and at the 6 minute mark, put the puck neatly behind Tony Dobell in the Red Cage.

The Redmen reversed the play, and 2 minutes later, Gene Robillard counted his first goal of the night. Rocky Robillard scored his third goal a few minutes later, and Mac Kimmie of the All-Stars, and Gene Robillard of McGill, wound up the night's scoring, with the final score McGill 10, Lachute 4.

Boxers Face A.A.U. at Athletics Night

Knocks 'em Cold

DOUG McLEOD, one of the most promising newcomers on McGill's boxing team. He is a leather slinger on whom Coach Milt Orr places confidence in the forthcoming bouts.

Pugilists Preparing For Intercollegiate Championship Final

By ART BRONSTEIN

Milt Orr's boxing cuties go into action once again next week in an Athletics Night attraction. The Redmen will oppose A.A.U. stars and Olympic representatives. They had arranged for matches with a U.S. Coast Guard team but the latter squad has withdrawn. The boys have been training seriously in preparation for the Intercollegiate Meet which will take place Feb. 25, 26 in Kingston, and so are expected to be in top shape for their bouts in the Athletics Night.

Many of the boys making the trip to Kingston will be among the Night's contestants. John Granda has recently started serious training, and will be entered in the 155 lb. class. John was middleweight champion at U.B.C. two years, and lost a highly contested decision in the intercollegiate meet last year.

John Heney, McGill's boxing sharpie, who knows how to use a long right hook to advantage, will again be entered in the 140 lb. division, and should be in top flight shape for this bout.

In the 147 lb. class is shift Doug McLeod who has been showing excellent form to date with victories in the past two Athletics Nights. Doug is one of Milt's most capable newcomers, and should provide keen competition for whoever is appointed to face him.

Sluggo McAllister will also make an appearance in the 155 lb. division. Bob won a convincing decision in his last outing, and is constantly showing improved form. Bob can slug it out with the best of them, and is rapidly gaining control of his lethal right.

Paul Nicholls, a newcomer to the fistic wars as far as McGill is concerned, will make his debut in the 165 class.

NICHOLS BOXES

Bill Nichols, the highly touted contender from Syracuse and late of the football squad, will weigh in at 175 lbs. Bill has been improving since returning to ring sessions in January and should return to the form which helped him slug his way to a U.S. Olympic berth last summer.

Rounding off the squad Orr has a heavyweight, Neil McKenzie is a rugged boy who hails from Jamaica and attended Yale last year. He has been turning out to pre- shown the stuff that champs are made of.

Golden Greeks Lose To Central Y.M.C.A.

In a Montreal Volleyball League fixture played last night at the Central Y.M.C.A., a fighting Y squad downed the Dawson "Golden Greeks" two games out of three, 15-13, 14-16 and 15-8.

The tilt, was one of the best so far in the league being marked by fast action and hard spiking. Shining for Dawson were Candilidis, Meletouelos, Stachenko, Nickolaidis and Neum. Outstanding for the Y were O'Dell, Dobush, McAdam, Burnett, Clinton and Ere-kine.

Dawson's next game will be Friday night at the Dawson Athletics Night against the Central Y.M.C.A.

The following article has been kindly contributed by Al Ragati, publicity manager of the Rensselaer Outing Club. The MOC were very happy to have the ROC; they were a swell bunch and are welcome to come back any time they can and "without a doubt someone will shout: 'Let's bring to Rensselaer!'"

Hurray, The Yankees Are Here "The McGill Outing Club very graciously extended an invitation to the Rensselaer Outing Club to use the facilities of the MOC at Shawbridge as a base of operations for skiing trips to the nearby slopes.

Having no place of their own, the visiting clubbers were quick to accept the MOC's generous offer, knowing that mid-term vacation in the best skiing country in the East couldn't be equalled. In addition, the opportunity afforded the group to cook its own meals, plus the very reasonable "rent" added up to what the college student is forever seeking — economical recreation.

"Eager groups of seventeen

ROC'ers arrived Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights with skis, sleeping gear, wax, and all the other paraphernalia so dear to the campers' and skiers' heart.

Snow conditions have been so poor down south that the Rensselaer clubbers hadn't much opportunity to exercise those skiing muscles, a fact which soon became evident when the group had their first opportunity to snap on their hickory slats and flash down the slopes of St. Sauveur.

"Saturday night saw a crowd of 33 outing clubbers, members of both the MOC and the ROC, gather in the MOC house for a truly delectable baked ham supper. After a day of steady skiing no one had to be high-pressed to partake of seconds! Hats off to fair sex for an excellent exhibition of cookery.

"The convenience and enjoyment afforded by MOC House are very sincerely appreciated by the ROC. Its members wish to genuinely acknowledge the MOC's spirit of co-operation and comradeship which made this week-end possible."

Week-end Ramblings

This sure was a week-end for the MOC! Besides our U.S. visitors we had approximately 34 MOC'ers, and on Sunday Faye Rodriguez brought up thirty underprivileged boys. Hats off to Faye for a swell job! Five of our hardy types — Len,

In a special statement, John Dobson, chairman of the Carnival executive, stressed that all girls should buy their own tickets to the Carnival, as a double set of tickets is too hard on a gentleman's pocket book, especially at this time of year. Also, if the girls are waiting for the boys to ask them, they may be disappointed and will get no tickets at all.

ATTENTION COMMERCE MEN

Max Ford, the renowned showman of Montreal, will be the guest speaker at the Commerce banquet on Thursday night, February 10th. Mr. Ford is also one of the leading figures in the business world and the serious side of his speech will be devoted to informing the Commerce men what opportunities they have to look forward to when they leave McGill.

Tickets are 75c and can be purchased from the Union Tuck Shop or from the Commerce Executive, Ted Blake, Mel Dultz, Eric Barry and Clive Reade. Because there are only accommodations for 125 students, the commerce men are advised to purchase their tickets as soon as possible.
